

TELLS OF VELVET FROM NEWBERRY

Statement Attributed to State Senator at Grand Rapids.

SEVERELY QUESTIONED

Witness Holds to Testimony After Grilling Examination by Counsel.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Feb. 14.—Whether women for the committee which managed the 1918 senatorial campaign of Truman H. Newberry was a pacific proposition was twice emphasized at the prosecution's insistence that the election was uncontested. George Clegg, one of the defense attorneys, said he had "nothing to do with it." Following a statement introduced by a grand jury in one courtroom, W. V. Treadwell, a state senator from Jackson, I. O., got up all alone and I considered at least half of the grand jury's evidence.

The defense was presented to the jury by Frank G. Farley, who made his second appearance. He has the special grand jury glasses he was awarded by the United Nations of the grand jury.

As the defense's spokesman, Justice W. L. Latham and J. E. Nichols of Detroit, went over the "several severe excesses" examination. They said such a severe examination would have been a violation of their agreement.

Under questioning he had told of his application of his "protection" to the state of Michigan.

He also said he had been lengthening his running time before the trial.

Highest made two brief dashes of noise while the defendant was before the grand jury, "at least 20 minutes and perhaps half an hour."

Senator Newberry was called to Detroit today by the summons of his wife.

PASTORAL LETTER ISSUED

American Catholic Archbishops' Communication to be Read.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—For the first time in 25 years the American Catholic archbishops and bishops are issuing a pastoral letter to their members. The letter, which will be read in every Catholic church in the United States February 22. It was prepared by Cardinals Gibbons and O'Connell and Hector Thomas J. Shanahan of the Catholic university.

The pastoral letter along lines laid down by the bishops at their general meeting last September, views the world situation and makes that recommendation which is based on sound principles and not alone in view of expediency. It emphasizes the need of justice and charity and their application to the practical solution of the pressing problems that confront all civilized nations. The letter will discuss problems of marriage and divorce, industrial relations, national conditions and international affairs. It also stresses the obligation as a means of reconstruction and inhibits the power of Christianity as an absolute necessity for human welfare.

WIFE SHOT TO DEATH

While Three Children Look on Little Rock Father Says Their Mother Then Takes Own Life

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Feb. 14.—While her three small children looked on with indifference, Mrs. E. B. Bay, aged 36, was shot to death in her home here tonight by her husband. The culprit left the house walked several blocks to the place where stopped at the entrance to the building and turned the gun upon himself. He was dead when police reached the scene of the shooting.

The Bay was paid in money intended about three weeks ago and that night. According to the little children, Bay, who was their grandmother, entered the house about 10 o'clock last night, while their mother was at the grocery store. He avoided the return of his wife, and the wife could not say why of course the quarrel. It is believed that he went to the bed of the youngest child, who is nine years old, and so seriously ill with pneumonia, kissed the child and "smothered" in the chores and drew his revolver. He fired eight shots, one of which entered her brain and caused instant death. It is believed that she was overcome by the number of shots that face were powder-burned.

Bay then left the house and finished the tragedy by ending his life at the entrance to the capitol.

The Bay had been married only months ago, it was said that Mrs. Bay only recently came to Little Rock from Memphis, Tenn.

Lansing's Resignation Not Entirely Without Precedent in History

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—Although unique in the circumstances surrounding it, Secretary Lansing's resignation is not altogether without precedent.

Montgomery Blair, a member of President Lincoln's cabinet, was appointed by Lincoln to resign after disagreement over administrative matters.

Richard Ballinger was forced from Taft's cabinet following a controversy over Alaskan coal land rights.

William Belknap, secretary of war in Grant's cabinet from 1869 to 1876, resigned under different circumstances from the preceding offices, being removed after revelations of maladministration.
